Chapter 446: The Vigil of the Divine and Shadow Forces

The Heavenly Realm

In the Heavenly Realm, the forces of divine purity and strength stood vigilant. The Apostles of God and Heavenly Soldiers performed their sacred duties, ensuring the realm remained a sanctuary of light and virtue. Their patrols, though numerous, were conducted with a perfect sense of unity and precision.

1. Apostles of God: Born from primordial light, the Apostles of God were divine beings of immense power and beauty. Each of them, adorned with six angelic wings, moved in unison across the Heavenly Realm, their presence a beacon of divine order. They radiated the purity of creation and kept watch over the sanctity of the realm.

Under the leadership of Gabriel and Michael, the Apostles maintained the structure of the heavens, ensuring no forces of darkness could encroach upon their domain. The celestial auras they radiated touched every corner of the realm, preventing corruption and chaos from even thinking of taking root.

2. Heavenly Soldiers: The noble warriors, born from the fruits of the World Tree, embodied the power and strength of the gods. Each soldier, equipped with golden armor and armed with heavenly weaponry, patrolled the streets of the Heavenly Realm, protecting the sacred grounds and ensuring that no intruders could disrupt the divine order.

Their patrols were not confined to the Heavenly Realm alone. These soldiers, bound by their sacred duty, also stood as protectors of the boundaries between realms, ready to defend against any threat that dared approach the divine sanctuaries.

Nocturne Abyss Realm

In the darkness of the Nocturne Abyss Realm, the Dark Apostles gathered. Born from primordial darkness, their duty was to safeguard the delicate balance of the multiverse from beneath the veil of shadow. Their patrols were far more secretive, their movements almost imperceptible, but their vigilance was unmatched.

The Dark Apostles, with their six black wings and shrouded in shadow, stood at the threshold between the known and unknown realms. Led by Azrael, their watchful eyes ensured that the Abyss remained in equilibrium, and the boundaries of shadow did not spill over into the light.

While the Apostles of God illuminated the heavens, the Dark Apostles kept their vigilance in the depths, where the unknown lurked. Their silent patrols spanned across the darkened corners of the realms, ensuring that no force of darkness threatened the greater cosmic balance.

Centillions of Dark Heavenly Soldiers

The Dark Heavenly Soldiers were created to patrol the darker corners of existence. Born from the fruits of Divine Trees across the realms, these beings, with their two to four dark wings and second black heart, stood as silent sentinels in the shadows. Their task was to protect the sanctity of creation by maintaining the balance between light and dark across all realms.

Spread across countless worlds, these soldiers watched over every plane of existence. They were the ultimate enforcers of Sung Jin-Woo's decree, their vigilance spanning the farthest reaches of the multiverse. As part of the Divine Decree, these soldiers ensured that neither darkness nor light gained too much ground, keeping the cosmic equilibrium in check.

Their patrols traversed the hidden realms and forgotten worlds, ensuring the purity of creation remained intact. They were silent, swift, and relentless, never resting, for they were the eternal guardians of the balance between light and shadow.

Centillions of Shadow Soldiers

Meanwhile, in the infinite reaches of the realms, Centillions of Shadow Soldiers patrolled under the command of Sung Jin-Woo. These ethereal beings, created from the void, existed as extensions of his will. Each soldier, formed from the darkest corners of existence, moved with unparalleled speed and precision. Their forms, constantly shifting and dissolving into shadow, made them nearly impossible to detect.

The shadow soldiers operated in complete harmony, covering every realm, dimension, and corner of the multiverse. Their sole purpose was to maintain the security of the realms, striking down any threat to the balance. Whether lurking in the depths of the Void or on the frontlines of the Heavenly Realm, the shadow soldiers moved as one, ever-watchful and ever-present.

A Unified Vigil

The patrols of the Apostles of God, Heavenly Soldiers, Dark Apostles, Dark Heavenly Soldiers, and Shadow Soldiers ensured that no corner of the multiverse was left unguarded. Their vigilance and unity were the bedrock of the cosmic order, keeping the balance between the divine and the dark, the known and the unknown.

Though their methods differed, their goal was the same: to protect the sacred realms from any force that threatened the multiverse’s delicate equilibrium. Together, they stood as an unbreakable force, bound by their loyalty to the Divine Triad and the will of Sung Jin-Woo.

From the heights of the Heavenly Realm to the depths of the Nocturne Abyss, their patrols resonated as one eternal presence, a reminder that no force could ever disrupt the order that had been established across the multiverse.

The Divine Decree of Eternal Watchfulness

As the patrols continued across the multiverse, Sung Jin-Woo issued a decree to his divine and shadow forces:

"Let no corner of the multiverse go unprotected. Let no darkness encroach upon the light. We are the guardians of creation, and we shall stand vigilant until the end of time."

This decree echoed across every realm, reaching the ears of every celestial and shadow entity, reinforcing their bond and reminding them of their shared purpose. Together, they would ensure that the harmony between realms would never be broken.

To Be Continued...